

See the impact of BrainPOP in real time.

BrainPOP is about more than delivering content. When students learn with our animated movies and auto-graded assessments, they build the background knowledge and vocabulary needed to bring content into context.

Our new reports turn those teachable moments into easily trackable instructional insights on students literacy skill growth. Teachers and administrators can now:

Track class-wide progress and student-level proficiency

See where literacy skills are embedded in each activity

Identify opportunities to further differentiate instruction.

Usage and Activity Reports

- Track top topics and activities to see which concepts are the most popular across schools and classrooms.
- Filter usage data by product, school, and custom date ranges.
- Identify your most active teachers by their number of logins and assignments.

Evidence-based and proven to drive measurable outcomes

Whether you're interpreting data in math class or analyzing historical text in social studies, literacy skills are there — and so is BrainPOP.

Students who learn with BrainPOP confidently navigate new or complex concepts because they can extract key details, understand the main idea, interpret unfamiliar words, bring in prior knowledge, articulate their thoughts, and evaluate their sources.

BrainPOP

Consistent use of BrainPOP assessments leads to a 17% increase in students' literacy skill proficiency across subjects.
